Background: Illuminated Economic Solutions has illuminated the darkness around the idea that one might wish to consciously embark on a long pathway which promotes a clean environment for the ones who elect for the clean environment and the existing environment if one elects to have a less positive environment as the: future arises; past sets; and present forms.

Perhaps one might enable this as a forewarning to the future humans from the past life and immediately share the illumination of the darkness with the future in the present. The children are the future and ignorant children with no light will perhaps find darkness in place of bliss.

Perhaps one might enable the children to make a decision to begin saving the future from the past within the present; simply by the idea of preparing the youth to save the future today. However, if the child elects to have a more negative environment and continue living in the existing negative environment, then naturally the two parallel realms shall in fact split; respectfully to avoid any negative energy that perhaps may reduce the lifespan or health of the other human. Every human has the right to live on a realm that does not attack humans selfishly for personal entertainment, pleasure, or gain. Thus naturally mitigating the impact of manipulation.
